What is a Temporary Building?

Temporary buildings are incredibly versatile structures that have become an increasingly prominent solution for companies that need a quick and affordable way to create additional space for taking on large contracts or protecting stored goods.

Discover the advantages of Aganto temporary buildings:

- Weather protection: Snow and wind loadings to BSEN1991.
- No foundations required: Easily anchored down to level hard standing.
- Fire safety: All structures conform to British Fire & Safety codes.
- Easy to extend, modify or relocate: Minimal disruption to your business.
- Insulated or non-insulated: Perfect for temperature-controlled or chilled goods.
- Strong and durable aluminium frame: Robust industrial strength aluminium frames.

Warehouse Storage

Create more space for storage with our flexible and cost-effective temporary warehouses

We tailor our temporary warehouses to your business-specific needs and sector, from logistics to industrial manufacturing, retail and beyond. We're experts in warehouse structures and can advise on the best options for temperature-controlled storage, size, and further add-ons such as lighting, cladding, and PVC roofing.

"The installation of our warehouse building was a swift and effortless project thanks to the care and attention to our needs shown by your company. The daily communication from yourselves and staff helped keep the project very much alive and in keeping with our schedule at all times. An all-round good job."

Andy Cecil
Warehouse Manager | FatFace Clothing

Our robust, relocatable temporary workshops quickly increase the capacity of your site

“Having the temporary building has enabled us to get a very quick turn round on problems and procedures and ways of doing things. This particular building Aganto have given us is going to enable us to do a lot more of our own bodywork.”

Huw Evans
Accountant | Motor Range

Whatever you plan to use your workshop for, we have the expertise and experience to solve your temporary workspace challenges.
Our team can provide you with an adaptable and functional space that is built bespoke to your requirements.

Retail Buildings

Our retail buildings offer a number of potential uses with minimum disruption to your business

From temporary retail buildings and car showrooms to emergency replacement buildings, Aganto's experience and expertise with retail spaces mean we provide you with fit-for-purpose temporary buildings.

"Aganto were great to work with. They were very professional and responsive from start to finish, which is exactly what we needed in the circumstances. In fact, the whole response was tailored to our needs perfectly, including timeframes and a bespoke payment plan, which enabled us to get up and running before any insurance claims were settled."

Ian Buxton
Manager | Waterways Garden Centre

Aganto's loading bay canopies provide excellent cover for goods and employees

"Despite the remarkably fast and non-disruptive installation method, the canopy supplied by Aganto is a very solid and strong structure that meets our needs perfectly."

Dennis Farr
Distribution Manager | Benson Group

Whether you need a loading bay canopy or a short-term storage canopy, we have the solution. Proven to reduce loading/unloading times in bad weather, Aganto canopies provide protection for goods, eliminating the potential cost of damaged products and packing.

Recreation Buildings

Expand your recreational space quickly and easily with customisable sports structures

With extensive experience providing temporary building solutions for the sports and recreation sectors, Aganto has the expertise to provide you with a cost-effective solution for any sports or leisure building from temporary gyms to covered tennis courts.

"Aganto seemed to be offering just what we needed and in the time we needed it, allowing the team to continue training without interruption before and after our relocation."

Jason Loubser
General Manager | London Broncos Rugby

Need extra space for an additional production line in order to meet demand quickly?

“Off-site storage is a pain. If you have space on site, an Aganto temporary building makes commercial and operational sense.”

Steve Leath
Production Manager | Burnett Manufacturing

We have the perfect solution. Ideal for various manufacturing applications, Aganto’s temporary industrial buildings can be onsite in a matter of days and are flexible and relocatable.
